Rotary donates Bibles

At its meeting on April 10, the Rotary Club of Antioch presented a check to Victory Memorial Hospital Chaplain George Franke for the purchase of new modern language Bibles for the hospital.

The generous gift makes it possible for a complete Bible in the Today's English Version to be placed at each of the 406 beds in the hospital. The gift will also make possible the purchase of copies of the Spanish edition and Roman Catholic version with Apocrypha.

Area man arrested on drug charge

An Antioch man is being held by U.S. authorities in Puerto Rico on $75,000 bond in connection with the smuggling of drugs with a street value of over $1 million.

William Haley, 39, of Joanna Ct. in Antioch, was arrested April 4 at Borinquen Airport in Aguadilla, Puerto Rico, through an investigation conducted by the U.S. Coast Guard and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA).

Jeffery Berry of San Dimas, Calif. is also being held in the incident.

According to authorities, 884 pounds of marijuana, with an American street value of $353,000, and 580 pounds of methaqualone powder, with a street value of $870,000 were found in the aircraft piloted by Haley. The drugs were believed to have been flown out of Columbia in the plane owned by William H. Magi of Ely, Minn. The twin engine Beach Craft Queen Air, valued at $500,000 was also confiscated in the arrest.

Township hears ideas for revenue sharing

Revenue sharing fund distribution by Antioch Township was finalized April 10 in the second of two hearings scheduled.

Of 28 applicants for the federal funds, 18 were awarded money from the funds the township hopes to receive. A bill before Congress may reduce or eliminate funds for townships within the next few months.

Townships in the meantime have had to create a "wish list" budget for the funds. Those on Antioch's list are: Teenage Institute for Drug Abuse; Chaplaincy Service; Antioch Rescue Squad and Fire Dept.; Youth Service Bureau; furnishings for the senior citizen building now under construction; Lake County Commission on Alcoholism; cab transportation for seniors; township parks and recreation; township highway equipment; Antioch Little League and girls' softball; a contingencies fund; the senior citizen building; Viking Football and Wrestling; street lights; office equipment and building maintenance; and miscellaneous salaries.

ONE POSSIBILITY discussed for the "miscellaneous salaries" fund was an assistant for Township Supervisor Jim Fields. Fields said the assistant's job would involve checking on township people receiving money from the township's general assistance fund. The general assistance fund, commonly known as the "poor fund," is available to township people in emergency circumstances needing financial aid immediately.

Fields said the assistant would work a half day, three times a week. If the program succeeds, it could be continued with financing from the regular budget, he said.

At the regular township meeting that immediately followed the revenue sharing hearing, Fields announced that this year's tax bills to township residents would not include levies for either the general assistance or the retirement funds. "We had enough money left for another year," he said. "I don't know if you'll be able to find (the difference) on your bill," he added.

THE BOARD OPENED the solitary bid received for a security gate to close off the office section of the township building. Although the township sent specifications for the gate to four area companies, only Benes responded with a bid offering three alternatives: a $10,000 mechanical closure; a $5,000 steel manual gate; and a $3,400 chain manual closure. After some discussion, the board opted for the least expensive gate.

The board also appointed Benes as representative to Antioch's Fire Protection District 1. Fields said the appointment came on the recommendation of Chief Todd Mapletorpe. "They're still having a few problems with the new building and they felt Frank has experience in these matters," Fields said.

At the end of the meeting, a Heart O' Lakes Subdivision resident commended Roads Commissioner Blaine Ring for expediency in having the speed reduced on subdivision roads. "The residents will be tickled," he said.

Area boards announce final election tallies

There were few surprises in the school board elections in Antioch School districts held April 12. All incumbents were re-elected, while where an opening did exist on the Antioch High School board, a newcomer grabbed the most votes in the contest.

In that election, Frank Walsh, Robert Lindblad and Bette Meyer were elected with 611, 567 and 532 votes cast respectively. A total of 938 votes were cast in three precincts.

Others in that race included Julia Portalski receiving 362, and Mary Ann Kaht with 298.

The board reorganized after the elections and elected Lindblad president and Meyer secretary. Walsh was sworn in at that time.

The three grade school boards will hold the election of officers at the next regular meeting scheduled at respective schools. Again, no surprises were evident in these races.

Antioch Grade School board members Garnet Cook, Bruce Jablonski and Gail Heath were re-elected receiving 348, 312 and 295 votes respectively. Others seeking a seat on the board were Kathy Turner with 244 votes and Val Mitchell with 239.

Votes numbering 580 were cast in that election.

Emmons Grade School Supt. John

Kakacek estimated that approximately 70 ballots were cast in the election that found both Ann Kaiser with 62 votes, and Carl Fischer with 59 votes re-elected for three year terms.

Sue Schneider received 61 votes to fill a two-year vacancy, while Tom Piskor received 13 votes in his quest for a three year term.

Two hundred thirty-eight ballots were cast to elect three board members to the Grass Lake School board. John Steitz, Greg LaPlante and Arleen Olsen were elected with 168, 147 and 132 votes respectively. Patricia Sherwood, also vying for a seat, received 115 votes in the contest. Ardeen Harris received 19 votes as a write-in candidate.

Elected to serve on the College of Lake County board were Richard Anderson of Grayslake receiving 6929 tallies; James Lumber of Round Lake receiving 6704; and Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan with 5474.

Although the tallies are unofficial, a CLC spokesman listed other results as, David DeBolt of Round Lake, 5351; Debra Halas, 4663; and Kent Weiske, Waukegan, 1800.

Anderson, 27 was a CLC student when first elected to the board six years ago, while Lumber, 45, was a charter member of the board. Rostron was a former board chairman.

Police search for burglar

An early morning break-in is suspected by Antioch Police and St. Peter's Church officials, as eight items valued at over $2,300 were discovered missing on April 15 by church officials.

According to Police Chief Chuck Miller, chalices, plates and communion sets of gold and silver were taken from the church by a thief who apparently knew what he was looking for. "It was a clean break-in, and there was no other damage to speak of. It looked like the buglar knew what he was going in for," he stated.

ACCORDING TO A parishioner, there is a $1,000 reward offered for the return of the chalices which are of deep sentimental value to the church. The parishioner said that one piece was given to Fr. Bernard Duffy on a recent visit to Ireland and one was a chalice Fr. Francis Q. Kub received at the time of his ordination.

Police are interested in people who know of the selling of gold and silver that could be connected with the burglary.

Maxwell Days set by Antioch Chamber

Before a large group of Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry members and guests, Antioch Trust president Paul Pavelski and Atty. Michael Gantar presented both formal and informal discussion on trusts.

The general membership meeting held April 8 at the Harbor Ridge Country Club, was the scene for a question and answer period as Pavelski and Gantar reviewed reasons for utilizing trusts. Both experts stressed the need for planning ahead in one's financial future.

HE EXPLAINED that $35,000 could be saved on an estate of $300,000 just by enlisting in the services of a trust.

Gantar maintained that there are two other reasons for using a trust. "Using a trust keeps financial matters completely private, and also keeps the estate from being partitioned if a couple divorces.

According to Chamber Secretary Dixie Sparks, the retail committee as announced that the mother's and father's day promotions will be the same as last year. "Area schools will be participating as they did last year," she said.

Also announced at the retail committee meeting on April 14 were the dates for the very popular and fun Maxwell Days and Moonlight Madness. Maxwell Days will be held July 31, August 1 and 2. Moonlight Madness will be held August 28.

Antioch Moose women honor star-recorders

by JUDY PAGE

Antioch chapter of the Women of the Moose were host to visiting chapters from Wauconda and Waukegan on April 3 in honor of co-workers from all chapters who earned the star recorder degree. The chairman for the evening star recorder, Jerri Polson, opened the meeting by introducing two members of her committee who were present: June Ballenger and Judy Page. Chairman Jerri also acknowledged Dorothy Tralewski who will be receiving her degree this June at the International Moose Convention in Chicago.

The ritual part of the ceremony was performed by Wauconda's Sally Lubano, while Mary Brown of Waukegan and Lois Luck of Wauconda served as guides.

After the ceremony, Antioch's senior regent, Mary Galster, officiated the Award of Achievement presentation of the Mooseheart Award for the 1978-'79 chapter year. Judith Kelly who served as the chapter head during that period hung the award in the Chapter room. Collegian Norma Lowe, was presented with her 1976-77 award to keep as a remembrance.

The nominating committee for the 1980-'81 board of officers was named by the senior regent and the date was set at 7:30 p.m. for April 24 at the Moose Home. Voting and election for the new board of officers will take place May 15 before the meeting. Senior Regent Mary asked all who were interested in becoming an officer to submit their names before the April 24 meeting.

The next business meeting will be held at 8 p.m., April 17.

Town meeting heavy on nostalgia, business light

Although the annual Antioch Town Meeting held April 8 was not overly attended, moderator Bill Brook expressed a wish for continued support of township government. "The township board has the responsibility of spending money and making decisions for the area," he stated. "I guess with the light turnout, it must mean they are doing a pretty good job. If there were problems, there would be more people here," the Antioch native added.

The townspeople voted to accept financial reports from both the township government and the library board, represented by Betty Lu Williams. Proposed budgets were also explained.

The townspeople also voted to transfer a portion of the revenue sharing funds to the road commission. "It is just normal procedure," stated Blaine Ring, township road commissioner. He said that he sought the money to maintain the 95 miles of roads in the township. "There is only one lawn-mower to use this summer," he said.

Unrelated to the town meeting, Ring commented on the progress of the bridge construction on Ackerman Rd. at Indian Point. "The structure and the fittings were good on the bridge, but it was dangerously narrow," Ring said. He said that the project should be finished in the next few months.

It took five years to accumulate the funds for the rebuilding, according to Ring, and in a review, the state recommended aid for the project out of nine northern counties.

He also pointed out that the remaining funds could be used on another project. "We won't have to hit the people with another three cent tax," he said.

DOC trap Northern on Antioch's Sequoit Creek

Many are the skills that go into the making of a good fishery biologist, but Harvey Brown of the Illinois Department of Conservation (DOC) probably never thought mid-wifery was among them.

But midwife Brown did as he "delivered" approximately 360,000 northern pike eggs from northern traps this past week in Sequoit Creek near Antioch.

Actually, from the pikes' point of view, it was probably regarded more as theft, but Brown and DOC regional fisheries supervisor Gary Erickson, view the pike trapping as necessary to obtain pike fry for stocking in public lakes around the state. The northern is one of the largest game fish predators found in Illinois waters and is prized by anglers both for its fight and fine taste.

Both male and female northern were netted on their way up the creek from Lake Marie in the Chain O' Lakes during their annual spring spawning run. Brown and Erickson knew when to put out the nets because the pike react to the water temperature. Both females and males start to produce eggs and milt when the water starts to warm, and they begin moving upstream when the water temperature reaches about 39 degrees, Brown said.

In a week's time, Brown said the Department of Conservation's fisheries crews were able to catch about 100 mature northern in trap nets. About five quarts of eggs were obtained from the ripe females. Those males and females that were not yet ripe were transferred to pike rearing areas at Moraine Hills and Chain O'Lakes State Park in hopes that they will spawn there. The mature fish and their offspring will be kept in the marshy rearing areas until the young reach the fingerling size in late June or July.

A few of the northern were also to be taken to the Shedd Aquarium in Chicago for replenishing of the aquarium's native fishes exhibit, Brown said.

Creek water levels are a bit low this year, which would inhibit the chances of the northern getting off a successful spawn, Brown said. Although northern pike can tolerate fairly polluted water, they do need marshy wetland areas in which to spawn. And these wetland areas adjacent to streams are often drained and filled to make way for development.

Moreover, Brown said, many smaller man-made lakes will easily support northern but have no good areas for them to spawn. The fish prefer grassy areas that are inundated with about a foot or two of water, he said.

WORK CONTINUES — Workman are busy getting ready for finishing touches on Main St. in Antioch as they first install new curbing on main thoroughfare. According to public works supt. Walt Shepard, curbing is hardest of project that will repave street starting from Rte. 173. — Photo by Lisa Wilkie.

According to Roxane Klean, project chairman, proceeds from the sale will be given to the Antioch Parks and Recreation Department for their youth programs.

The Jaycettes also wish to thank the folks at Ben Franklin for the donation of an Easter basket which was used for a free drawing. The lucky winner of the basket was Anne Kozel of Antioch.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I got to go to the more than successful race car show at the Lakehurst Shopping Center over the weekend, and although the cars were real smart looking, I was hoping to run into some I knew something about...like Model T's or something. Just think how cute a car like that would look, putting around the oval...maybe enter the super modified division. Something for Darrell Dodd to consider.

Heard about 20 of the racers showed up at Furlan's for a little get together on Saturday. Guess the fun is really just beginning up there with the summer leagues just about to get started. Should be busy...

Speaking of racing, little Donny Collins placed second in his heat and thirteenth in the 80-lap ARTGO Spring Classic held at Rockford Speedway on Sunday afternoon. Used to see him on the street on his skateboard and I always knew he was a winner...

So guess some of Antioch's VIP's will be flipping burgers at McDonalds on Sunday, April 27, in celebration of their 25th anniversary. "McHappy Day" will find 25 cents from the purchase of each Big Mac going to benefit Antioch Parks and Rec. There will also be entertainment from school bands at the event, along with Glenda Tomaschik, Mayor Haley, and Miss Lake's Region, to name a few, donning McDonald attire and pitching in during the fun day.

I suppose Glenda would still be happy to hear from anyone wishing to offer suggestions on the possibility of renting a garden plot for the summer. Sounds like a great way to economize, and even get a tan for all you young people.

Coming up this weekend are two fun events nobody should miss. First of all, Las Vegas Night on April 19 at the Auction Center, should be loads of fun for all you folks that like to gamble. There's a chance to win some great prizes and just have lots of fun—without losing too much money. I'll sure be there—love to play those dice games, like bunto...

On Sunday, there will be the family fun fair at St. Peter's Social Center. Good opportunity to see some family fun competition between parishioners.

Don't forget to vote if you are member of the St. Peter's Parish. There are three openings on the school board.

Also, don't forget to go to the Grass Lake School rummage sale. That will be held the morning of April 19.

And, baseball tryouts still continue for perspective boy and girl Little Leaguers.

Another thing not to overlook in the upcoming weeks is the PM&L production of "Born Yesterday". Happened to stop in on opening night last Saturday, and it was just the best. My favorite part was when the barber gave the star a shave. There was some real close calls, because the star just couldn't keep still, but I was later told that there wasn't a blade in the razor. What a let-down...nothing's for real anymore.

Well, blow me down! I sure goofed last week when I said that the Pub would be serving hot dogs on opening day. Mr. Georgeson told me that the fun is supposed to be on April 18, the day the great Cubs open at HOME.

So stop by there on that day, and join in the fun at the World Famous Village Pub, and maybe if you're real nice, Bill'll let you play some backgammon...

Well, if they didn't go and snatch up the young, eligible policemen over the weekend. It seems like they just get some cute whippersnappers around here, and they go off and get married! Both officers Ronald Roth and William Kukla tied the old knot last weekend and will be settling down after the hoopla and fun event. So Allen, looks like you're next.

Guess the streets are really going to be shaping up soon around town. The curbing is getting done real fast. Just keep all that snow away, will ya Robbie?

Just had the pants shocked off of me when I heard what happened at Rotary the other day. I guess the gang just had a rip-roaring party at Dennis Johnson's one night, so bad that the finemaster donated some grass seed to Mr. Johnson so he could patch up his yard after all the cars left...what Zickus won't do to get somebody to come out and play...

MC HAPPY DAY — From left, Antioch McDonald's general manager, Chris Singleton, Antioch Parks and Rec. coordinator, Dee Lang, Parks and Rec. director, Glenda Tomaschik, and McDonald's ass't. manager, Vicky Workman get ready for "McHappy Day" to be held on April 27 at Antioch McDonalds in celebration of the burger store's 25th anniversary. Antioch officials and other VIP's will be joining in as workers on that day. Donations of 25 cents for every Big Mac sold will go to Antioch Parks Dept. — Photo by Lisa Wilkie.

County receives allotment

Illinois townships and road districts have been allotted $3,292,626.00 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the State Treasury during March according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various townships and road districts for their highway needs. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of mileage in the individual townships and road districts. These units of government must levy a tax for road and bridge purposes to be eligible for motor fuel tax allocations.

Lake County received $27,349 in allotment.

Census important to everyone

Returning 1980 census questionnaires are flooding the mailboxes of the census bureau's district office, according to the local district manager, Jerry Sosnoski.

The mail-back method, a relatively new census-taking technique, will save taxpayers at least $180 million if all households that were asked to do so return properly completed questionnaires by mail.

Census takers will have to go out looking for any questionnaires that do not come back within a reasonable time. Those who forgot to drop their filled-out questionnaires in the mail on April 1 can still save tax money, and the time they will otherwise have to spend when the census taker calls, by mailing them now.

"Everyone has a substantial stake in making the population count complete," Sosnoski said. "There have been significant changes in this area since the last nationwide population count in 1970, and this is the chance to bring the record up to date. It is vitally important for several reasons.

"First, census results determine representation in government at all levels. From the U.S. House of Representatives, state, county, and city governments right down to the local school board, seats in elected governing bodies are apportioned according to census population figures."

"In dollars and cents, a complete count is important too. Census figures county heavily in the allotment of money for a great many local government programs. The census results influence the distribution of some $50 billion a year in federal revenue sharing programs in which federal funds are provided directly to local and state governments for their use."

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: APRIL 17, 1930

Engulfed in a crowd of people, all of whom were strange to him, with the exception of his father and mother, whom he had not seen for a year and a half, little four year old Walter Westhoff, Jr., arrived from Germany. Had he not come to America he could now be enjoying the honor of being the distinguished grandnephew of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, recently elected head of the cabinet of the German republic. Mr. and Mrs. Westhoff, Sr., of the Enyewood farm, east of Antioch, were all smiles and tears when they saw their little son step off the train.

CITY BRIEFS . . . Chas. Blunt has been confined to his home on Victoria Street with neuralgia . . . Buddy Mapplethorpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mapplethorpe, sustained severe cuts on his arm when he fell through the glass in a storm door which he was holding for his father, Tuesday night. Several stitches had to be taken . . . Emmett Webb, a junior at the University of Arizona, is a member of the Follies cast. He has played in Los Angeles, El Paso, Phoenix and Tucson.

All because a voracious little mouse got desperate one night last week when he was faced with the problem of how to avert the grasp of starvation, Richard Wilton, Antioch, has come to the portentous conclusion that it is perfectly possible for these rodents to do things so destructive as setting a house on fire. Mr. Wilton found in his pantry that a naughty little mouse had established bivouac on a box of matches and that the tops of all the matches had been burned off and the box was decidedly delapidated. Mr. Wilton said he is going to get rid of that mouse and hereafter he is planning on storing the matches in a tin container.

Replacing the portion of the building destroyed by fire a month ago Contractor Vincent Dupre is rushing to completion a modern three story fire-proof addition to the building of the Antioch Packing Company. The new building is to be of concrete and brick and as nearly fire-proof as possible, according to Joseph Patrovsky, owner and manager of the plant.

30 YEARS AGO: APRIL 13, 1950

Members of the Antioch Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary entertained the veterans of the T.B. wards at Downey Tuesday evening. Miss Dolly Ries furnished music by playing several numbers on her piano accordion. Refreshments were served by Unit members Madames John Horan, Lucy Himens, J.W. Horan, Myra Randall, Harold Ellis, Earl Horton, V.J. Keeney and Mr. and Mrs. Franz Swenson.

The Peacock Crippled Children's Camp on Deep Lake Rd. was destroyed by fire Saturday. A painter said some steel wool caught and shorted an electric outlet setting off an explosion of the paint fumes. The frame building burned rapidly and the Lake Villa and Antioch fire departments couldn't get past the building in the mud to get to the lake to pump water. Strong winds fanned the flames and the building was leveled in an hour.

Remodeling has been started at the old Frank King residence on Main St. for use as a public library. Expense of converting the building into a comfortable place for reading, study classes and the housing of books is being borne through money left by C. K. Anderson and his wife, Leila, according to Mrs. Edmund F. Vos, chairman of the board. Mr. Anderson left $5,000 and Mrs. Anderson left $1,000.

Cast makes Kanin's 'Born Yesterday' fun

The season of politics is year-round, and PM&L's current production of Garson Kanin's comedy, "Born Yesterday" is living proof of that fact. The PM&L cast is exciting enough to pull the audience through the lengthy play, and stars Priscilla Gwin, Gary Richter and Frank DiMarco make the personalities they portray very believable indeed.

The play, directed by Don Beveroth, has a post World War Two setting at a Washington D.C. hotel. Wheeler-dealer Harry Brock, played by Frank DiMarco, is in the capitol to win the help of a senator on the take. The hope is to find yet more ways through legislation to perpetuate his already lucrative junkyard business.

The brusk Brock runs into trouble when he decides to polish his naive girlfriend's etiquette. The girlfriend, Billie Dawn, portrayed by Priscilla Gwin, after she unsuccessfully makes an attempt to entertain members of the Washington jet-set, is told to become more sophisticated for Brock's benefit.

IN THE MEANTIME, Brock's usually drunk lawyer, Ed Devery, played by Frank Greenwood, has insisted that Brock do an interview with aspiring journalist, Paul Verrall, played by Gary Richter, to fool the public into believing there is a legitimate purpose for the visit to Washington.

The mean-mannered Brock, then decides to have Verrall educate the former chorus line member Billie, even against the advice of his Harvard educated lawyer.

Verrall's assignment turns not only into a love affair, but also into an expose on the multi-millionaire Brock, who throughout the play contends there is nothing better than being a self-made man.

After learning a few things from Verrall, Billie sees that she has been used as merely a loophole in Brock's dealings, but to complicate things, Brock confesses his love for the girl. Billie has already decided to change her lifestyle and leaves the play free to marry Verrall.

ALTHOUGH "BORN YESTERDAY'S" plot is pretty predictable as were most productions written at that time, Gwin's ability to change from a not-so-smart chorus girl to a woman concerned about honesty in the character of Billie Dawn, is what makes the play. DiMarco's portrayal of the rough junk dealer also never flinches, as doesn't Richter's appearance as the muckraking Verrall.

Not to go unmentioned are the portrayals of Brock's vallet and cousin, Eddie Brock, by Hank Apostol, who does an excellent job at fielding Brock's temper; the Senator Norval Hedges, by George Blanksten, who is perfect for the part of the getting-too-old-for-honesty politician of the late 40's; and Mrs. Hedges, by Dorrie Hubbard, who excels in the role of the senator's dutiful wife.

OTHERS ADDING TO THE play, who are all at the brunt of Brock's criticism, are the assistant manager of the Gorman Hotel, Bill Seaman; the maid, Helen, Dee Baum; bellhops, Steve Beno and Nick Loiacono; barber, Larry Bersie; manicurist, Nancy Balms; and young bootblack, Derrick Richter.

The crew, cast and set, all work together in setting the play in Washington in the 40's, and although the play was lengthy, the audience at the packed PM&L Theater responded enthusiastically to the opening night event.

The political satire runs for two more weekends, Friday and Saturday April 18 and 19, and 25 and 26. Curtain is at 8:30 p.m., and tickets are available by making reservations at 395-3055.

by BETH RIECK

A Tenth Anniversary celebration was combined with an installation of new officers to the Richmond Pioneer Club on Tuesday, April 1, at Andre's Restaurant. A cocktail and social hour preceded the family-style dinner.

The president, Verona Nies, welcomed everyone present totaling 74 members and guests. She thanked those on the committees, which were: arrangement, Wanda Todd; history, Arlene London and Beth Rieck; program, Elaine and Robert Leonhardt; table decorations, Eleanor Scott, and Carol Guillaume. She also asked those who have birthdays in April to stand while everyone sang "Happy Birthday."

Violet Wild offered the prayer after which the dinner was served.

THE ROUND Lake Senior Citizens Kitchen Band provided a very delightful program of music and songs.

After the musical program was completed, the president introduced Secretary Arlene London, who gave a description of the organization of the Pioneer Club and read the minutes of the organizations meeting of March 26, written by Frieda Wolff.

The president then introduced Beth Rieck, who first read the list of the presidents, first and second vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers of the organization from 1970 to now. They are Robert Leonhardt, Marge Johnson, Violet Etzkorn, Catherine Ziederowski, Frieda Wolff, Elaine Leonhardt, Ardella Anderson, Al Tomasek, Bill Wild, Bea Meier, Marian Pretzman, Walter Pretzman, Ruth Schmitz who replaced an officer who resigned, Wanda Todd, Margaret Powers, Dorothy Ackland, Arlene London, Verona Huff who replaced an officer who was ill, and Verona Nies. They all stood to be acknowledged by applause. All were able to be present except Violet Etzkorn, who is deceased.

Beth Rieck then gave a short resume of things done in the ten years of the club of which the Strawberry Festival was first done in 1972 and has since been an annual event. They had many educational and fun trips, ate in a variety of restaurants, had bake sales, white elephant sales, films, speakers at meetings, donated to tennis court fund, the restoration of Chicago and Northwestern Depot in Richmond, Pioneer Center, Fish Program and also to various rest homes with cookies, candy etc. and to the Richmond Rescue Squad. These were a few of the things done by club members.

Girls need time to better record

Antioch High School girls varsity softball team suffered three non-conference losses last week, while the frosh-soph team pulled a win from the Zion-Benton ZeeBees before suffering two losses.

Both varsity coach Steve Scott and frosh-soph coach Julie Pederson attributed the losses to inclement weather. "We just haven't been able to get out and practice with this weather," Pederson stated. "We only played three of five games scheduled over the week, and it just doesn't get the spirits going to well," said the third-year coach.

The varsity, which finished regional champs last year, suffered a 11-1 loss to Zion-Benton on April 8, while posting 14-13 and 10-0 losses in a Lake Forest double header on April 12. "There's a lot of frustration right now," stated Pederson of the varsity team. "Once they get going they should do well," she added.

RETURNING TO THE team are seniors and captains Shelly Wix and Patty Hinz, playing third base and left field, respectively. Wix hit a three-run homer in the Lake Forest contest.

Others returning are junior, Chris Byrne at shortstop and sophomore, Tracy Manuel at first base. Dawn Johnson is returning hurler and pitched the entire first game Saturday.

"The two captains really will offer leadership to the team," stated Pederson.

Pederson also noted that three returning players on the frosh-soph team should rev the girls up. "Jaquie Larson and Peg Ducummun lead the girls and should get us going," she said. Both girls are sophomores and captains, while Larson plays shortstop and Ducummun is in outfield. Cathy Blanchette also returns in outfield.

Freshman Kim Eves, catcher, and Donna Gutowski, pitcher, according to Pederson, should round off the team.

The team posted a 16-4 victory over Zion-Benton on April 8, and lost both Saturday games to Lake Forest by scores of 14-11 and 18-9.

Think back. It hasn't been that long ago. Pennsylvania looked like it might be blown off the map any minute, turned into a radioactive no-man's-land forever. "Permanently uninhabitable" was the way they said it in the movie, The China Syndrome.

That's the trouble. A lot of people said a lot of things. And a lot of it just wasn't true. Not even close.

Take the hydrogen bubble that made all the headlines. Bubble, nothing. The implication was time bomb, ticking away. And that would've frightened anybody who didn't have a degree in chemistry.

The fact is, that bubble couldn't explode. Not by any stretch of the imagination.

To understand why, you have to understand how the hydrogen got there in the first place. And that takes some understanding of how the reactor at Three Mile Island was designed to work.

It's the pressurized-water type, meaning the fuel core was cooled by keeping it submerged in water. H₂O. Hydrogen and oxygen. Heated by the core to more than 550 degrees, well beyond the boiling point.

What kept it from boiling was pressure, approximately 2,000 pounds worth. But on March 28th, last year, a relief valve on the pressurizer stuck open, the pressure dropped, and the water—the H₂O—inside the reactor boiled into steam.

When that happened, the zirconium-alloy tubes housing the fuel underwent a chemical reaction. A kind of accelerated rusting that combined the zirconium from the tubes with oxygen from the water to form zirconium oxide.

That's important, because with all the oxygen used up by the chemical reaction, the only part of the water left was hydrogen. The bubble. And what nobody bothered to tell you at the time was that without oxygen, hydrogen can't explode.

On May 1st, more than a month later, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission admitted the scare was all a mistake. Roger Mattson, Director of its Systems Safety Division, told a congressional committee there "never was any danger of a hydrogen explosion in that bubble."

That never made headlines.

And more than likely, neither will the fact that even if there had been a meltdown, it wouldn't have spelled disaster for Pennsylvania. It couldn't have.

First of all, the fuel core in the reactor vessel was surrounded by a containment building. Not just any building, an immense fortress with an enormously thick floor. Eleven feet of solid concrete reinforced with steel.

Second, for a molten mass to eat through it, that concrete-and-steel floor couldn't be covered with water. But water is what's used to cool the core. And when the relief valve on the pressurizer stuck open, sending several hundred thousand gallons shooting out, the law of gravity gave it only one place to go.

Down to the floor, right under the reactor vessel. Right in the path a molten mass would take.

That's the fallacy of the meltdown theory. In spite of the overwhelming odds against it, if all systems failed, if the entire core melted, if it got through the foot-thick steel reactor vessel in one piece and dropped to the floor below, it would've been stopped right there. Cooled by an ocean of water inside the containment building, not 20 feet from where the meltdown started.

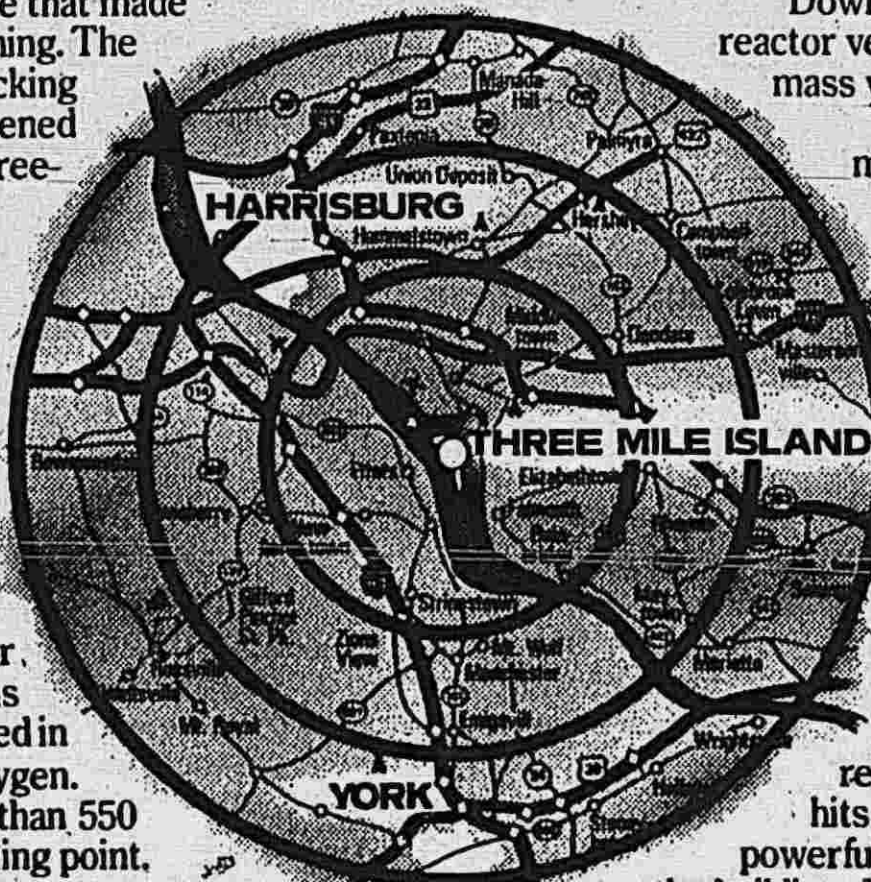

As for any sudden burst of steam pressure that might be released when the molten mass hits the water, it wouldn't be nearly powerful enough to rupture the walls of the building. Walls capable of withstanding almost twice as much force.

In other words, there was no way for significant radioactivity to reach the atmosphere outside.

The point of it all is that Three Mile Island and nuclear power itself deserve a fairer shake. A second look minus the hysteria, the hyperbole, the half-truths, and the untruths. They deserve a close, careful reading of the facts.

True, we've experienced the worst accident in the 22 years America has been using nuclear energy to produce electricity. But it wasn't the apocalypse. No one died. And except for the stress of being scared stiff, no one was injured. Despite the equipment failures and failures in judgment, despite everything that went wrong, the safety systems worked.

What really exploded were myths.

In her first official public appearance since capturing the title of Miss Lakes Region, Sally Ann Mueller appeared as a guest at the Miss Elgin Pageant on Saturday, April 12. Among those also present for the preliminary pageant to the Miss America National Finals was Cheryl Pruett, Miss America 1980. Sally and other reigning queens were introduced onstage at the pageant.

The schedule of appearances for Miss Lakes Region, a busy college student, includes participation as a model in the annual Emmons School Spring Fashion Show being held on Thursday, April 24 at the Crescent Bay Landing Restaurant in Johnsburg. The hospitality hour will begin at 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 7 p.m. and fashion show at 8 p.m.

On Sunday, April 27 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sally will join with Antioch Mayor Michael Haley and other village officials in the celebration of MacDonald's McHappy Day. The famous burger spot will be donating 25 cents for each Big Mac sold, to the funding of activities sponsored by the Antioch Department of Parks and Recreation. MacDonald's patrons that day will be treated to the sounds of the Antioch High School Jazz Band and Bernie Guntz's Band. Other fun attractions are scheduled.

Following the Big Mac event, Miss Mueller will spend Sunday evening in Glenview, as a guest of the Miss North Shore Pageant. In addition to periodic appearances, she is preparing for her talent presentation as a pianist for the Miss Illinois Pageant competition to be held in Aurora, July 15-19.

Sunday of fun slated at St. Pete's

From 1-5 p.m., on Sunday, April 20, St. Peter's in Antioch seventh grade will be sponsoring the second annual Family A'Faire Day. This event will be held in St. Peter's Social Center.

The afternoon's activities include races, basketball, cheerleading, competition between parents and students and much, much more!

Lunch and refreshments will be available along with seating for those who are not so athletically inclined and would prefer to watch.

Students in various grades have prepared programs with a gymnastic touch for entertainment.

A $1 adult, 50 cent children, ($4 maximum per family) donation will be accepted at the door.

Family A'Faire Day is an excellent opportunity for the family and community to participate in the smiles, laughter and togetherness everyone needs. The seventh grade students of St. Peter's look forward to seeing the public April 20.

Women enjoy tour; to host harpist

The Antioch Woman's Club held their annual tour on April 7. The ladies went by bus to tour the Sara Lee Kitchens in Deerfield. They were shown the mixing, baking packaging and palatizing of the baked goods. At the end light samples were given and also some demonstrations of how to use their products to make their own desserts.

The group stopped for lunch at James Tavern in Northbrook, that boasts outstanding food and quaint decor. Following the tour and luncheon, the 41 ladies enjoyed shopping at Northbrook Court.

The next meeting of the Club will be April 21 at Harbor Ridge. The program will be a Celtic Banquet, Songs and airs both ancient and modern for voice and harp will be presented by Katie Joyce.

Man arrested

According to Ron Seibert of the U.S. DEA, the two men were arrested after the Coast Guard observed them dumping cargo while in flight.

According to Lake County narcotics investigator Timothy Powell, the DEA uses the El Paso Information Center (EPIC), a system of computers in which information of suspected drug smugglers is kept.

Powell had no comment on Haley's involvement with drugs in the Lake County area except that, "We know of Haley. His name is listed in the computer system."

Michael Haley, a brother, said that Haley had made his home in Antioch "on and off for many years." Haley could face federal imprisonment.

Auxiliary awards students for American essays

Four grade school students were presented with awards at the April meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 748 by the Unit's Americanism Chairperson Helen DeVries. Three St. Peter's Grade School students and one Antioch Upper Grade School student were on hand to receive awards in the 1980 essay contest co-sponsored by the American Legion and the Auxiliary. The topic was "Why I Would Rather Live in the United States than in any Other Country."

Debbi Delaney, an eighth grader at Antioch Upper Grade School, was presented with the first place award. Delaney's essay has been sent to district competition.

Nicole Adkins, a St. Peter's Grade School eighth grader, was awarded second prize. Lorin Buchta, a seventh grader at St. Peter's Grade School, was presented with the third place award. St. Peter's Grade School eighth grader Shari Scharlau was on hand to receive honorable mention.

These students read their essays aloud to their parents, friends and the auxiliary members present at the meeting.

Honorable mention awards have been sent to Andrea Schlosser, an Antioch Upper Grade School student and Todd Podlin, a St. Peter's Grade School student, because they were not able to attend the meeting to receive their awards in person.

Total entries received was 231 from Antioch Upper Grade School, Faith Evangelical Lutheran School, and St. Peter's Grade School.

Americanism chairperson DeVries said, "We are happy the grade schools are taking an interest in the fine Americanism contest by presenting information about the contest to the young people so that they may become more aware of the fine country we live in."

In other business at the monthly auxiliary meeting, the women voted to contribute money to CARE and to the Seeing Eye Program.

TM can improve life

Jim Polley will be speaking on "The Transcendental Meditation Program: Creating an Ideal Society" Monday, April 21 at the United Methodist Church of Antioch. The free presentation will begin at 8 p.m. at the church, located at 848 Main St.

Polley will be emphasizing the holistic benefits of the TM program. The first part of the lecture will explain how TM reduces stress, tension, anxiety, and fatigue.

The major emphasis will be on the improvements that take place in society when a small percentage of the population practice the technique regularly.

According to Polley, more than 400 studies have proven that the TM program improves the quality of life for the individual and society.

Polley is a member of the Methodist Church. He is also the co-chairman of the Lake County Transcendental Meditation Program.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

Our Homeowner's Policy was taken out in 1975 when our house was built. The policy was for the full amount of the cost of the house and has been renewed every year for the same amount. Will the coverage be badly out of date?

Yes. With construction costs and everything else going up so dramatically and your coverage remaining the same, it will probably not begin to cover the cost of replacement. For a total loss, your insurance company would pay only the face value of your policy. You would have to make up the difference. Check with your agent to bring your policy in line and to find out how often you should have the policy re-appraised and kept in line with current costs.

TOOTH FOOD

The first thing to teach your children about preventive tooth care is that good eating habits are important. Foods that keep the whole body healthy will also keep teeth, gums and jawbones in good condition. Meat, eggs, vegetables, fruits, whole grain breads and cereals are excellent for healthy teeth and gums.

If your child eats between meals, remember that snacks should be low in sugar. In-between-meal treats such as candy, cookies, ice cream, sugared chewing gum and sweet drinks may play havoc with a child's teeth. Bacteria which are normally present in the mouth combine with sugar to form acids - acids which attack tooth enamel. Eventually, it causes cavities.

When sweets are eaten between meals there is more apt to be a chance for cavities to develop, since the child will probably not brush right after - before acids have a chance to form.

Foods that should be avoided by everyone include, caffeine: coffee, tea, cocoa and cola. Sugar in all forms (including honey), white flour, milk and cheese, fruit juices, and all alcoholic beverages.
